As we prepared for church this week on Christmas Sunday, we turned on our television, as we do each week, to the Hour of Power broadcast. While we always enjoy the music and the message on these broadcasts, this week was special since the message was brought by Max Lucado. Mr. Lucado spoke from his recent book, "3:16". This was made more special since our "Spice of Life" Sunday School class is studying this book right now. In fact, we have just covered the parts of the book that Max focused on.

You can get more info on the message and watch a high quality video at the Hour of Power web site. More info about the book and study series can be found at the Max Lucado web site.
